THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 3d day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominees of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

ROOMS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, MILWAUKEE, February 12, 1880.

A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin, and of all who will co-operate with them in supporting the Nominees of the party, is hereby called to meet at the Capitol in Madison, at twelve o'clock M., on Wednesday, May 5th, 1880, for the purpose of placing in nomination an electoral ticket of ten electors to be supported by the party at the next Presidential election, and also to select twenty delegates, (two from each Congressional District and four from the State at large), to represent the Republican party of Wisconsin in the National Republican Convention, which is called to meet at Chicago on the 3d day of June, A. D. 1880, and to transact such other business as may be deemed necessary.

Each Senate and Assembly District is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

Remember that general apathy can kill the best ticket ever made.

The way to win a victory to-morrow is to work, and the way to work is to vote the straight Republican ticket.

Mayor Cobb will go in to-morrow by a big majority, and the Republicans should see that all the other candidates follow him.

The Republicans will do themselves proud to-morrow if they will just take the time to go to the polls and vote and work and give the city and ward tickets an overwhelming majority.

The more Dan Voorhees' committee investigates the exodus business, the keener is the stomach sickness of the committee.
They found out long ago that they went into bad business for the Democrats when they undertook to enquire into the cause of the emigration of the negro.

The New York Democratic Convention will be held at Syracuse. Uncle Sammy tried to steal a march on John Kelly by buying up the hotels so that Kelly and his braves wouldn't have any place to root except the sheds down at the salt works. Kelly's friends heard of this scheme and at once secured three of the largest hotels for the exclusive use of Sammy, and the new Opera house in which to hold their Convention. Score another for Kelly. He has four hotels in Cincinnati to Tilden's three.

More than a year ago the Gazette recommended a change in the system of examining the pensioners of the United States, and suggested that a board of examiners should be appointed for each Congressional district; whose duty it should be to thoroughly examine each pensioner whose disability was not absolutely permanent, and to recommend such reduction or increase in the pension as it thought the case warranted. This suggestion was made in the interest of economy and that the government might be protected against what might properly be called fraudulent pensioners. The necessity of some such system has at last been seen by others, and Senator Withers, of Virginia, has prepared a bill which the Senate Committee on Pensions unanimously supports, that will remedy the evil which now exists in regard to examining and paying pensioners. The bill provides for 200 or more commissioners, one for nearly every congressional district, who shall examine the claims for pensions, and each pensioner now upon the rolls shall be examined once in two years. The commission for each district is to be composed of three persons, a lawyer, a surgeon, and a clerk. It is time that this system should be considered by Congress. It is entirely just, and will not only result economically to the government, but it will protect the rights of honest pensioners, and will take from the rolls thousands whose names have no right to be there. The government pays out many thousands of dollars annually to persons who are under no circumstances entitled to pensions. This fact is becoming generally known, and the United States Senators who have been diligent and enthusiastic in looking after the rights of soldiers, warmly support the Withers bill.
It is to be hoped that there will be no delay in pushing this bill through. The sooner it becomes a law the better for the government and honest pensioners.

THE ELECTION TO-MORROW.

Every Republican in the city should comprehend the importance of the municipal election which takes place to-morrow, and in no way shall show a lack of interest in the result. What the Republicans have done in the way of making nominations challenges the support of the party, and there should be no indifference manifested regarding the fate of any candidate on the ticket. By a united effort, and simply a determination on the part of every Republican to do just what it is his

THE MINISTRY.

The Composition of the New Liberal Ministry in England.

LONDON, April 4.—The Observer this morning says: "We understand there will be no decision whether the government shall resign at once or await an adverse vote of Parliament until the exact number of the Liberal majority is ascertained. After the result of the polling on Friday became known a special messenger was sent to Baden Baden with dispatches for the Queen. We have reason to believe that Gladstone disapproves of the arrangement suggested in various quarters that he accept a subordinate office in the new administration. He still adheres to his intention of not resuming office, but will cordially support the recognized Liberal leaders, Earl Granville and the Marquis of Hartington.
His reports current about the composition of the new Ministry are obviously premature, as there has been no consultation between the Liberal leaders on the subject.
We mention the following rumors as possessing a certain amount of probability, although resting as yet on no basis of ascertained fact. It is said the Earl of Derby will be offered the Foreign Office. If he refuses, as is probable, the office will be assigned to Lord Kimberley. W. E.
Forster will be Minister of the Colonies; Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Lord Cardwell, Secretary of War; Mr.
Childers, First Lord of the Admiralty; Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Sir Charles Dilke, and Mr. Fawcett, as representatives of the advanced section of the party, will occupy seats in the Cabinet. Lord Selborne, it may also be taken for granted, will hold an important post in the Liberal administration.

FOOTE'S FORGERIES.

He is now Charged with Forging Notes Against His Father-in-law.

LA CROSSE, April 4.—The Foote case and the facts that have come to light today, have created more of an excitement than the announcement of Foote's arrest on a charge of setting fire to the Democrat Opera house building. Papers have been served on him on charge of forging the name of James Vincent, his father-in-law, to notes to the amount of $15,000. A large portion of the notes have been paid. There may be more that have not come to light, but the paper that was known to have been negotiated by Foote was placed as follows: I H Moulton, $3,000; Schneidewend & Lee, $725; Batavia Bank, $2,000; La Crosse National Bank, $2,500; Campbell Press Company, $2,500; John Gund, $2,250.
Foote refused to talk to reporters to-day, but said in the presence of Vincent's attorney that Pomeroy instigated the forgeries, but it is not probable that this story will find many believers. There appears to be no prospect that Foote will get bail. M.
Pomeroy, his partner, who is now in Denver, Colorado, has been telegraphed, and will probably be here in a few days.

THE CHIPPEWA VALLEY.

Heavy Rains on the Chippewa—Causing Considerable Damage.

EAU CLAIRE, April 4.—Heavy and continued rains in this section for the past several days have caused large freshets in the rivers and tributaries, and resulted in considerable destruction of property. In Barren county, where there is no telegraphic communication, and where there was quite a body of snow, the rise was sudden, and most of the bridges on the creeks were either swept off or damaged to such an extent as to temporarily suspend travel. In the town of Coifax, the dam of the Simons flouring mill was carried off, and the foundation of the mill partially damaged, which will cause a suspension of operations for several months.

In the adjoining county of Dunn, the damage from the same cause was also quite heavy. On Elk Creek, twelve miles west of this city, there was scarcely a bridge left, which is causing much inconvenience to the farmers. The dam at Captain William Wilson's during mill, which was newly constructed last May, and which was considered of the most substantial character, has again yielded to the large volume of water and is almost entirely destroyed. The mill building escaped un-

Spanish Officials Claim to Have Positive Information of an Expedition Against Cuba.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The District Attorney's subordinate here have been kept busy watching the coast of Delaware for several days for an expedition said to be making ready against Cuba. This action was taken on information furnished by the Spanish authorities. They stated that one of their officials had represented himself as a Cuban patriot, and had entered in a body of men which was about to leave the country. Between forty and fifty recruits, the majority being militaries, had assembled at a small village in New Jersey, and were under orders to go to Delaware. The man's instructions were to remain with the body until he had enabled the authorities to arrest them, but being over zealous, after the men had got on the train and were on their way, as he believed, to Lewes, he jumped off at a way station, and came to this city. Whether the fact of his desertion alarmed the commanders of the expedition is not known, but it is believed that his premature action made them feel exposure, and possible capture, if they proceeded to the destination originally intended. It is surmised by the Spanish authorities that, fearing treachery, the Cubans abandoned Lewes at their point of embarkation, and that instead of going there they proceeded further south. More special instructions were at once issued by the United States officials along the coast, and for the last three days close watch has been kept at all points on the seaboard where the expedition might embark, but without discovering any trace of a distressing party. The Spanish authorities claim to have full particulars as to the expedition, and they explained the failure of the United States officers to find men by the theory that the party had already escaped from the shore of the country.
They profess to believe that men have been taken on board a West India steamer and that they will be dropped on the south shore of Cuba while the vessel is on her regular passage. To-day an official of the legation in this city intimated that it was the steamer Acadia. Mr. Wilson said that the Government would spare no pains to bring the organizers of the expedition to punishment. The statute, he said, was very broad, and under it, in evidence of completeness in such an undertaking, conviction and punishment would rapidly follow. The statute imposes a penalty on any citizen or any person living within the jurisdiction of the United States who accepts a foreign commission to serve against any foreign country with which the United States are at peace. The person who supplies equipment for such an expedition is also made liable to punishment. The active leaders in the present undertaking are said to be General Carlos Garcia, who is believed to be with a body of filibusters, and General Carlos Ruloff.
They, however, are not men who supply money and originate a movement. The authorities say the secretary of the organization is a wealthy Cuban who lives in Brooklyn. The man who purchases the supplies which are necessary to the undertaking is also named. The man who has charge of the details of the expedition, has his home in this city, and as a means of concealing his real business carries on a cigar store on Eighteenth avenue. It is asserted that he is not only wealthy, but that he receives large sums of money from persons who sym-patize with the cause. The officials desire to make the names of these men public at present.

BLOCKADE RUNNING.

A Fight Between a Peruvian Runner and the Chilean Fleet.

LIMA, March 25.—The corvette Union forced the blockade of Arica, fighting seven hours with two Chilean iron clads and a transport. She discharged her entire cargo while fighting, and has returned to Callao.
The Union was undoubtedly sent from Callao with arms and ammunition for the Peruvians in the blockade port of Arica.
She is probably under command of Captain Villayencio, and had succeeded in her endurance despite the Chilean blockading vessels. In the seven hours' engagement it is fair to presume that the Union was actively engaged by the monitor Capaz and the torpedoes of Arica. Captain Villayencio has already distinguished himself as commander of the Chalaco, by many successful trips with supplies for the Peruvian forces on the republic delivering all, despite every effort to the Chilean vessels to capture him.

SHEBOYGAN'S FIRE.

SHEBOYGAN, April 4.—Kohler, Hayesen & Stephens' foundry was partially destroyed by fire to-day. The engine, boiler and machinery were badly damaged. Loss, about $3,000; insurance $4,000.

Fire from cause unknown broke out in J. C. Patis' foundry, corner of Franklin and Michigan streets, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Damage, $300 to building; insured.

FULTON.

—Last Saturday the peoples' caucus was called to meet at the Ford. As it was headed Peoples' Ticket, of course all were invited, and at the license meeting were really the most interested in calling the caucus, they were not pleased to see the large delegation of temperance people from Edgerton and this village, who took full control of affairs and nominated a straight temperance ticket. The people are now thoroughly in earnest that no liquor is to be sold in this town.

—Last Saturday the Fortresses met at their usual place for a republican caucus, and at the same time the Union (Democrats) met. Both parties claimed the floor, and Mr. Hoxie decided by vote that the Republicans held the house; but Matthew Smith called for a division of the house, which showed a majority for the Union ticket. We intended giving a majority of the tickets nominated, but will wait the result of election before reporting. The Republican ticket was made out in the school yard.

week and will again make the old anvil ring at Murwin's shop.

—The meeting at Edgerton of the tobacco growers last week was well attended, and the organization has become a permanent institution. Judging by the plans already partly developed, the tobacco raiser who knows his best interests will unite with them. Their next meeting will be next Wednesday at 10 o'clock, at Union hall, Edgerton. This meeting will be an "experience meeting," at which each member will be supplied with the seed of Jimson weed which we hope will do away with that evil tobacco worm.
Attend ye farmers who wish to keep up with the times.

—This week a couple of our enterprising men will start a meat market in our wheat nearly all covered with straw, instead of Mr. Porter.

FAMOUS FEATS OF STRENGTH.

Some of the remarkable athletes of Ancient and Modern Times--Killing an Ox with a Blow--Squeezing Stone to Powder--Bending a Huge Iron Bar--Cleaving an Enemy to the Waist--Snapping Horseshoes, Etc.

Among the Greeks the successful athlete was crowned with laurels and loaded down with wealth and honors. When Egeus in the ninety-second Olympiad, triumphant in games, entered Agrigento, his native home, he was attended by an escort of 300 chariots, each drawn by two white horses, and followed by the populace, cheering and waving banners. Mito six times won the palm at both the Olympic and Pythian games. He is said to have run a mile with a 4-year-old ox upon his shoulders, and afterward killed the animal with a blow of his fist, alone and unaided by weapons, killed an enormous and enraged lion. One day (it is so recorded) he seized a bull by one of its hind feet, and the animal escaped only by leaving the hoof in the grasp of the athlete. The Roman Emperor Maximian was upward of eight feet in height, and like Mito of Crotona, could squeeze to powder the hardest stone with his fingers and break the leg or jaw of a horse by a kick. His wife's bracelet served him as a ring, and his every day meal was sixty pounds of meat and an abundance of wine.
 While a prisoner in Germany Richard I. accepted an invitation to a boxing match with a son of his jailer. He received the first blow which made him stagger; but, recovering, with a blow of the fist killed his antagonist on the spot. Tonyton, who was born in London in 1710, was prepossessed of astonishing strength. His arms, hollow in the case of ordinary men, were with him full of muscles and tendons. He would take a bar of iron, with its two ends held in the hands, place the middle of the bar behind the nape of the neck, and then bend the extremities by main force until they met together, and bend the iron straight again. One night perceiving a watchman asleep in his box, he carried both the man and his stool to a great distance, and deposited them on the wall of a churchyard. Owing to domestic troubles, he committed suicide in the prime of life. The famous Scanderberg, King of Albania, who was born in 1574, was a man of great stature, and his feats in sword exercise have never been equaled. On one occasion, with a scimitar, he struck his antagonist such a terrific blow that his tremendous force cleaved him to the waist. He is said to have often cloven in two men who were clad in armor from head to foot. On one occasion the brother and nephew of a certain Albanian, who had been convicted of crimes together, and the Albanians were bound together. Transported with rage he cut them in two with one stroke of his weapon. Maurice, Count of Saxony, the hero of Fontenoy, inherited the physical vigor of his father, and was especially noted for the surprising muscular power, or "grip," of his hands. On one occasion, needing a corkscrew, he twisted a long and stout iron into the required shape with his fingers, and with this extemporized implement opened a half dozen bottles of wine. Another time, when stopping near a village blacksmith shop he had his horse shod he picked up a number of new horse shoes, and with his hands snapped them in two as readily as if made of glass, much to the surprise and disgust of the smith.
 If history is to be believed, Phayllus of Crotona could jump a distance of fifty six feet. The exercises was practiced at the Olympic games and formed part of the course of the Pentathlon. Strutt, an English authority on games and amusements, speaks of a Yorkshire jumper named Ireland, whose powers were something marvelous. He was six feet high, and at the age of 15 years leaped without the aid of a spring-board over nine horse ranged side by side. He cleared a cord extended fourteen feet from the ground with a bound, crushed with his foot a bladder suspended at a height of fifteen feet, and on another occasion lightly cleared a large wagon covered with an awning. Colonel Ironside, who lived in India early in this century, relates that he met in his travels an old, white haired man who with one leap sprang over an enormous elephant flanked by six camels of the largest breed. A curious French work, published in 1745, entitled "The Tracts Toward the History of Wonders Performed at Fairs," mentions an Englishman, who at the fair of St. Germain in 1724 leaped over forty people without touching one of them. In our own day we are familiar with many remarkable expositions of strength and endurance. Dr. Winship, with the aid of straps, lifted a weight of 3,500 pounds, and with the little finger of his right hand could raise his body a considerable distance from the ground.

The strongest man in the world at the present time, so far as we are able to learn, now lives in Reno, Washoe county Nevada. A San Francisco Chronicle reporter recently witnessed the astonishing feats of this remarkable man, and was fully satisfied by what he saw that he is really all that has been claimed for him. His name is Angelo Cardella, an Italian, aged 38 years; stature five feet ten inches; weight 190 pounds; occupation, laborer; habits temperate, though he has no scruples against the moderate use of malt liquors and the light wines of his country. In personal appearance he is not remarkable; merely a good natured looking son of Italia, with a broad, heavy face; a noble development of chest and shoulders, and large, fleshy hands. His strength was born with him, for he had no athletic training. When "stripped to the buff," however, a marked peculiarity in his spinal column is at once apparent. His backbone, we might say, double-jointed, with the vertebral articulations unusually large and prominent though he is not a man of unusual size, his spinal column is double the ordinary width, and his other bones and joints seem made on a similar large and generous scale. After some solicitation, he finally consented to favor the reporter with an exhibition of strength, which proved to be such an astonishing exhibition of lifting power as scarcely to be believed. The reporter whose weight is 150 pounds, stood with one foot on the floor and arms outstretched, his hands being lightly grasped by two friends, one on each side, to preserve the balance of his body. This slight assistance, however, had no tendency to raise his body, being merely to keep him from toppling over. Cardella then stooped down and placing the third finger of his right hand under the hollow of the reporter's feet and with no perceptible effort, raised the reporter to a height of four feet and deposited him standing, on a table near at hand. This feat he repeated, and then grasped the reporter's ankles with both hands, raised him above his head, and gently lowered him to the table in a sitting position. Cardella had continued smoking as much as to say: "Pacchio, 'is nothing; a way we have in our country."

BEST IS CHEAPEST!

LEWIS' CONDENSED BAKING POWDER

STRICTLY PURE!
 We will give $1000.00 for any Alum or other adulteration found in this POWDER.
 Indorsed by the Brooklyn Board of Health, and by the best chemists in the United States.
 It is NEVER FAULTY in any household where it is used. It is NEVER FAILS to make light bread when used as directed.
 It is UNCOMMONLY NEW INVENTION, without any of the bad qualities of soda or saleratus, yeast or other baking powders.
 It makes the BEST, lightest, and most nutritious system.
 Good food makes good health; and health is improved or impaired in proportion as the food we eat is nutritious or otherwise.
 LEWIS' BAKING POWDER always makes good food.
 One can of this is worth two of any other baking compound.
 It makes bread whiter and richer. More than half the complaints of bad humors arise from the use of common baking powders, which often make the best of flour turn out dark bread.
 The most delicate persons can eat food prepared with it without injury. Nearly every other baking powder is adulterated and is highly injurious. This is made from Refined Grape Cream of Tartar, and is PERFECTLY PURE. It makes the BEST, lightest, and most nutritious BREAD, BISCUIT, CAKE, CRULLERS, WHOLEWHEAT, INDIAN, AND FINEST CAKES.
 A single trial will prove the superiority of this Powder.

BRIEFLETS.

—Prepare your ballots.
—Only two weeks more of school.
—The thermometer played high on Low Sunday.

—Tickets for Farrar's art lecture are on sale at King's.

—Fred Hastings, who has been very sick for a day or two, is better.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Roberts start for Winona, Minn., to-morrow.

—Dr. Chittenden has been kept housed by illness, but is now able to be out again.

—Elder Douglas preached at the Baptist church yesterday morning. No evening service was held.

—Mrs. F. S. Lawrence was taken very ill, Friday night, but is reported as somewhat better to-day.

—Rev. O. L. Barler, of Chicago, lectures to-night at Cannon's hall on "Swedenborg." Admission ten cents to defray expenses.

—And now comes another "argument" against Nolan. One of the candidates on the Democratic city ticket calls him "that little Paddy."

—Take no chances, but make sure of a good Mayor for another year by voting for Cobb. He has been tried and has proved himself a man.

—A railroad man named Leabey got three fingers of his left hand squeezed badly while coupling cars, Saturday night. He will not lose any of them though.

—Blanchard is a hard worker, and whatever his hand findeth to do, he doeth well. There will be no loading about nor neglecting business if he is elected Justice.

—E. M. Hyzer will have a clear track for City Attorney. His partner, J. B. Doe Jr., declines to run, and if any one is named in his place it will be for a mere figure head.

—Prof. J. H. Boyle, principal of Reedsburg High school, was in the city yesterday. He reports the educational interests in a healthy condition. Mr. Boyle was visiting his father-in-law, J. S. Bliss.

—Alex. Denning is a worthy man for the office of Sealer of Weights and Measures. He is a steady, hard working fellow, who has the confidence of all, and is in all respects capable of filling the office well.

—C. L. Valentine and Isaac Farnsworth are just the men for School Commissioners. They are gentlemen of intelligence and refinement, and have common sense views of what is needed in the city schools.

—The friends of Rev. Dr. Hodge, of Milwaukee, have been expecting him to visit Janesville and it was thought that he would preach here yesterday sure, but a postal received Saturday stated that he was unable to come.

—The Democrats of the Fourth ward have nominated Pat Joyce as School Commissioner against Isaac Farnsworth. If the citizens in that ward want to have occasion to rejoice they will unanimously "sit down" on Pat Joyce.

—We have upon our table the Channing centenary memorial number of Unity. Its pages are filled with facts and incidents concerning Channing and the results of his life and works, and cannot but be read with interest and profit.

—Church has all the necessary qualities for making a first-class City Clerk. Accurate, a good penman, familiar with clerical duties, the records would present a different appearance from those which now puzzle even the Clerk himself to read.

—Bill Monroe was out hunting yesterday. His gun kicked. It "busted." Bill now has a lame shoulder, and an elegant bit of tattooing on his countenance. He now has an incident from real life to tell the members of his Sunday school class as a warning to Sabbath breakers.

—Taylor, Drake and Cutts will be re-elected Constables without any shadow of doubt. They are temperate men, always attending to their duty, and understand the business thoroughly. H. A. Stone, the nominee in the Third ward, is not without experience, and is fully as good a man as the others.

—Remember that every vote cast for Davies is a vote for having the Street Commissionership fall into the hands of those who have been already getting a fat lying off the ward funds. We want a man for Mayor who has not pledged himself to give that office to his right hand supporter. Such a man is Cobb.

—The office of County Supervisor is a most important one, and good men only should be elected to handle such important monetary matters as they have in hand. The Republican nominees need only to be named, for they are known as straight, capable men—J. C. Metcalf, I. C. Brownell, B. B. Eldredge, J. B. Carle.

—S. C. Cobb, the Republican candidate for Mayor, is a man of stainless private character, and is a shining example of what hard work, common sense and patient industry can achieve, in a free country. No man in the city has more correct judgment or the honor and success of Janesville more at heart. Let his majority be a rouser.

—The Democrats have utterly ignored the foreign element in their party. They always are glad to get their votes, they pat the naturalized citizen on the back, and make much of him, but are strangely inconsistent when it comes to making honors easy. As three-fourths of their party are of foreign blood, they ought not to ignore them, but they do this year.

—The Gazette don't need to give a half-column apology as an introduction to a three line editorial. It don't try to play independent by first getting on one side of the fence and then on the other. Those that try that sort of independence are in the mud most of the time, and no amount of apologies will hide the inconsistencies of such a policy.

—Certain parties who have always had a good deal of the pap, which comes from work on the streets, are anxiously working for Davies for Mayor. This looks bad. They had better keep in the shade. The tax-payers have tired of the way ward funds have been spent, and will vote against the whole gang, for they want an entire change in regard to street improvements.

—A young man from Beloit sat down on the edge of a sidewalk on Milwaukee street to take a nap. The Marshal came along and shook him up, and he expressed great surprise that "a Beloit gentleman couldn't be treated as well away from home as he was when at home." He had been used to using the Beloit sidewalks that way, and he thought all sidewalks were made for free lodging houses for just such fellows as he.

—Tom Nolan is going to poll a heavier vote than many thought, and bets are being made that he will have a handsome majority over Prichard. He is only twenty-five years of age, but he is older than that in head, but yet not old enough to have got into his second childhood which is worse than the first childhood. He is endorsed by the leading members of the Bar, and those who know him best have the most good to say of him. He wears.

—Mrs. E. W. Cline starts to-day for Kansas to join her husband, who went some weeks ago, and who has now got his business and home arrangements ready for a permanent settlement. Mr. Cline is said to have good prospects in mercantile business there, and has two stores built, one of which he will occupy himself, and the other he has rented for a round price. Now that he gets settled in his new home and making money, he ought to be happy.

—The City Council will be greatly improved by the election of E. D. Murdock, O. F. Nowlan, C. B. Conrad and S. Norris. Such men will have something else to do besides calling each other liars, and horse-traders, and quarreling for hours over a cross-walk or lamp-post. It is time that good men had something to say about the city concerns, and every good man elected is so much gained. It may be fun to have a council who make a farce of every meeting, but it isn't business, and the interests of the city are not safe in the hands of clowns.

—The Democrats are quite loud in trying to make the people believe that Thomas S. Nolan is "too young" for Police Justice. It is simply a party shriek to gain votes. Mr. Nolan has lived a quarter of a century, and when such careful lawyers as J. B. Cassoday, John R. Bennett, B. B. Eldredge and others, say as they do that he is fitted for the office, and has ability, industry, and integrity of high order, there need be no fear on the part of Republican voters that Mr. Nolan will not fully fill the bill. He has not wasted twenty years, nor a single hour of his life in dissipation. Admitted to the bar at the last April term of court, he has reached his present position by hard honest work and no Republican has any substantial reason for voting against him. When this election is over it will be seen that his was one of the wisest political nominations made by the convention.

—The case of Mr. Hazelton is not the only one where there is suspected heresy in the Democratic ranks. The Fourth ward Democratic caucus adjourned from Wednesday to Saturday night, before their nominations were complete, after resolving themselves into a "smelling" committee for the purpose of discovering whether Mr. Blount's inclinations and associations were sufficiently partisan to qualify him for being a Democratic Alderman. It seems there had been considerable doubt as to the political status of that gentleman—he having at divers times expressed to himself to the effect that the party which had known him so long and intimately would know him no more forever. Upon what was deemed trustworthy authority, the Gazette announced a week ago that Mr. Blount was talked of as a probable candidate for Alderman, he having within a few weeks reiterated his determination to cut aloof from the Democratic party. The error of the Gazette was, however, only in the matter of time—at the next municipal election the honorable gentleman will not unlikely be seeking a nomination from the Republicans. Mr. Blount is a good man in many respects, but his political back-bone has been badly shattered.

A BAD BILL.

The Particulars of the Hanging of Bill Porter for an Unprovoked Murder.

How Justice Gives Death for Death in the far West.

Lynched by Citizens.

About ten days ago the Gazette contained the telegraphic news of the hanging of Bill Porter, at Alma, Col., for the unprovoked murder of a citizen there. There was at the time some doubt as to whether it was the same Bill Porter that formerly lived here, but all doubt seems to be now done away with. It seems that he was at work for D. A. Lowber, who formerly lived here, a son of Capt. W. C. Lowber. Mr. Lowber is interested in several mines in that part of the country and has for some months had Porter among his men. Porter did not bear any too good a reputation while living here, and was a man given much to drink. His wife, who was a most estimable lady, and who showed herself a most true wife, clung to him even when his disposition made her life one of constant misery, but death took her hence, some time ago. All who knew her cannot but be glad that she never lived to know this last and most crushing sorrow of all Porter's children are now living with relatives in California, and though in his lifetime he showed little love for them, he seems to have thought of them when death stared him in the face, and was anxious to keep the news of the manner of his death a secret from them. This seems the only remaining spark of manhood which was left, and that was a feeble one. From private letters received we learn that when Porter found that the lynchers were really in earnest, and that he was to be hung, that he told them to "jerk him up quick," and "wanted the job over with." The further particulars we glean from the Denver Tribune, which contains the following special dispatch from Alma under date of March 22:

Alma has to-day been the scene of a double tragedy—a murder and a lynching. There have been of late several shooting affrays in this town by rough characters, and the citizens have become so greatly enraged over them, that to-day when a bad character named W. J. Porter coolly shot down a worthy man, Thomas Carmody, by name, the good people of the place were not slow in coming to the conclusion that Porter should die, and when they once reached a conclusion were not long in putting their determination into execution. The circumstances as far as they can be arrived at are as follows:

Porter had been spreading about the town for some time and had created the general impression that he was a bad character, underserving of trust, and who was to be avoided upon general principles.

This morning he went to a store and bought a pistol, letting drop language which convinced those who heard him that he meant to kill his partner, and that he had bought the pistol for that purpose. What was the cause of their quarrel, it indeed they had any, does not appear.

Be that as it may, Porter started out in his usual swaggering manner, and before finding his partner, met Carmody, with whom he raised a quarrel. Very little passed between the two men, and everybody present seemed greatly astonished when Porter pulled his pistol and before resistance could be interposed shot his man down.

The murder was, all agree, unprovoked and cowardly in the extreme.

The ball struck Carmody in a vital spot, and he was almost a dead man when he fell. Notwithstanding this terrible result of his work, Porter presented his pistol a second time and was prepared to send an additional bullet through his victim, when a policeman, who had come up, interposed by knocking the desperado down and thus prevented his committing further acts of brutality.

The pistol was wrested from Porter's hand and he hurried off to the calaboose as rapidly as possible, followed by an angry and curious crowd. The populace at once became indignant and it was not difficult to see that unless affairs soon assumed a more favorable aspect for Porter, it was well for him to begin to make peace with his Creator.

This feeling against the murderer soon grew into a popular cry, and this time word was not confined to talk. As speedily as was possible the citizens of the town and camp were called together and a hurried consultation was held. What the result of the conference was, may be inferred from the fact that some fifty of the men engaged in it, proceeded directly to the place at which Porter was confined and hung him.

When they arrived at the jail they found Porter sullen and defiant. It was, of course, no difficult matter to define the purpose of the mob, and he prepared to stand his ground. He had not been searched when caged, as was indicated by his drawing a long knife, which he plunged at one of the leading vigilantes, a man whom he did not like. The weapon failed to hit its mark, and before he could strike another blow, a dozen strong hands had been laid upon him, and he was left to plead for mercy at the hands of the mob. This he did not do to any great extent, contenting himself with giving directions about the payment of his board bill, and requesting that his family should not know how he had come to his death. Porter had two young sons here, and he particularly requested that all knowledge of the affair should be kept from them, which was really an indication of feeling which it was not supposed that he possessed.

The work was quickly done. Few words were said and little time wasted. The rope was promptly placed about the neck of the murderer and he was led to the door of his prison. A projecting beam afforded a fastening, and over that the cord was thrown. He was then pulled up and the rope tied, and left to dangle in the door of the jail until he should be relieved by death. Porter was a dead man an hour after the murder had been committed.

As for the lynching I may say that it is done, and Alma does not regret it. It was done openly and not under the cover of midnight. The best citizens of the place took part in the work, and they are sustained by the community. There was not a drunken man present at the lynching. This is the third shooting here within the past few weeks, and this hanging is only a warning for no more, and the citizens intend to stand by it.

Porter was an associate and partner of Nash, who shot and wounded Dr. Breckinridge here in February.

Carmody was a native of Ireland, an industrious, hard working, respectable citizen, and very highly esteemed by his employers and friends.

Porter was from Wisconsin, and leaves the two boys above spoken of to mourn his loss.

THE LAST SAD RITES.

The funeral services of the late George L. Burpee, at the Congregational church, yesterday afternoon, called together so large an assembly of the friends and sympathizing members of the community as to fill the audience room completely. The sad event, which has thus cast a shadow on family and friends was one of those in which all seem to feel a share of the sorrow, and sympathy was manifest in many ways. The floral decorations were many and bespoke a silent cheer and tender hope for which words seem too heavy and clumsy. The Janesville Guards, of whom the deceased was formerly a member, attended in a body, as did also the Temple of Honor, of which he was an active member. The services as conducted by Rev. Mr. Sawin were tender and impressive, and at their close a large number of friends accompanied the remains to Oak Hill cemetery, where they were laid at rest, the burial service of the Temple of Honor being used at the grave.

J. C. GRAY.

The funeral of J. C. Gray occurred yesterday afternoon at the residence of the deceased on Locust street, in the Fourth ward. A large number of sympathizing friends, including many of the older residents, gathered at the saddened home to thus pay meed respect to the memory of one with whom they had so long been associated. The services were conducted by Rev. H. Sewell, of the First Methodist church, and consisted of music, prayer, reading of the scriptures and remarks by the officiating clergyman.

DR. JUDD'S TIPOVER.

Dr. Judd was driving along Milwaukee street near the Davis house, just before noon, when in trying to pass another team a coal wagon collided with his buggy, and he was hurriedly thrown out upon the pavement, striking with a good deal of force, the blow coming mainly upon his head and shoulder. Fortunately no bones were broken, but the Doctor was badly bruised, and for a few minutes was almost unconscious, but was able to proceed homeward in Dr. Sanborn's buggy. It is thought and hoped that no serious results will follow from the lively shaking up which he received, but he will feel quite sore and lame for a few days at the best. As soon as the buggy was tipped over the horse cleared himself from it, and ran a short distance, but was captured with little difficulty, and as the buggy was not badly damaged, it seemed a fortunate escape all around.

A STRAW.

A casual remark often betrays the animus which controls the actions of a man, a clique or a party. Attention has been called in these columns to the fact that the Democrats have placed no candidate on their city ticket, who claims any foreign blood in his veins, while three-fourths of their voters are foreigners. The entire disregard which the leaders of that party have shown to this predominant element and the schemes they invent whereby they retain the paying offices while Irishmen and Germans furnish the votes which place them there have, for the past few days furnished a fruitful topic for talk among these foreign classes. The feeling which the leaders entertain towards the great body of the Democratic voters was indicated by a remark excitedly thrown out by a leading candidate on that ticket, on Saturday evening, in the presence of a number of persons—that he hoped none of them would vote for that "d—d little Irishman,"—referring to the worthy, studious, temperate and intelligent young man, who is the Republican candidate for Police Justice. Mr. Nolan is certainly not inferior to the majority of persons of his nationality, and to apply to him such a degrading epithet, is to malign and insult the race to which he belongs and shows more forcibly than any argument the contempt in which the Democratic leaders hold the great body of Democratic voters.

It has restored the natural brown color of my hair and given it a silky softness never before. There is no Dandruff, no falling hair, and it leaves the scalp so clean and nice and cool that I am ever so much pleased, and I feel and look like myself again." From Rev. John Gregory, Pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church at Pittston, Pa.

MY DEAR SIR:—Having at various times personally, and in my own and other families, tested the great value of the medicine called PARUVIAN SYRUP or Protected Solution of Protocloride of Iron, I most cheerfully recommend it, especially to those who are suffering from dyspeptic and nervous disorders. As a reliable and powerful alternative, it is, I think, unsurpassed; and as a tonic, free from all the objectionable features of alcoholic remedies, it is a most efficient auxiliary to the temperance cause. One of the greatest hindrances to the temperance reform at present is, as I think, the medical use of alcoholic stimulants. Whatever may be argued as to their necessity in certain cases, we have, in the PARUVIAN SYRUP, a safe and efficient substitute for these dangerous remedies. This testimony is given unhesitatingly, with the hope that some who are not yet acquainted with the valuable properties of the medicine may be induced to give it a trial. Sold by all druggists. For sale in Janesville by Prentice & Evenson. apr12daw3m
